Akihiko Izukura, installation detail, silk, bamboo

January 15 - March 19 Akihiko Izukura: The Way of Natural Textiles

Master textile artist Akihiko Izukura from the Nishijin district of Kyoto, Japan comes from an ancient family whose sash-weaving business goes back many generations. Years of research and hard work have led him to his current philosophy of "zero waste" creating work that honors sustainability and symbiosis with nature. His project will fill the expanse of the gallery with a fiber installation made entirely of hand woven natural dyed silk, produced by silkworms. A combined dialog within weaving, netting, entwining and dying will be visible in a large structural form for visitors to walkthrough and experience.

May 21 - July 16 Piero Resta: Illuminatus

Piero Resta, Monastique #1, 2015, gesso and pigment

This retrospective exhibition honors an artist whose life's work was infused with passion and spiritual transcendence, within natural and mythological worlds. The selection of paintings, sculpture, and personal archives on display, reveals the axial relationship of his Italian heritage and influences of ancient traditions and architecture, integrated with the primitive vibrant life force of his home in Kaupo, Maui. His artistic career was immersed in the alchemy of philosophy, science, poetry and experimentation. This exhibition celebrates the legacy left by a man who embraced the world as a celestial navigator and willingly shared his grace with all to discover.
